Collaboration Between DoorBird and Knobloch

Mailbox Systems with IP Technology for Your Smart Home

Bird Home Automation Group, the Berlin-based manufacturer of IP video door intercoms, is now collaborating with Max Knobloch Nachf. GmbH, Germany's oldest mailbox manufacturer. Customized mailbox systems from Knobloch now contain the same IP technology that is used in all DoorBird video door intercoms. Thanks to IP technology, individual solutions such as communication columns, freestanding and fence-mounted mailbox systems can be controlled via smartphone or tablet. When the mailbox's call button is pressed, the resident receives a notification on his mobile device and can directly see and speak to the visitor. In addition, the mailbox installations can be integrated into various smart home systems. With the IP mailbox systems, both German companies meet the growing demand for smart and individual door communication solutions.
